Chronic Dyspepsia Cured.

AFTER suffering for nearly thirty years from dyspepsia, Mrs. H. E. Dugdale, wife of a prominent business man of Warsaw, N. Y., writes: "For 23 years, I was a constant sufferer from dyspepsia and a weak stomach. The lightest food produced distress, causing severe pain and the formation of gas. No matter how careful of my diet I suffered agonizing pain after eating. I was treated by many physicians and tried numerous remedies without permanent help. Two years ago I began taking Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills and Nervine. Within a week I commenced improving, and persisting in the treatment I was soon able to eat what I liked, with no evil effects. I keep them at hand and a single dose dispels any old symptoms."

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on diseases of the heart and nervous system. Address: DR. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES

Lowering of the Hawaiian Flag Caused Many Dim Eyes, Which Soon Brightened When Old Glory Was Strung to the Breeze—Government Notified of the Appointment of Spanish Commissioners.

San Francisco, Aug. 23.—The steamer Belgic last night brought the following: Honolulu, Aug. 12.—Precisely at 11:52 today the Hawaiian flag descended from the flagstaffs on all the government buildings and exactly at 11:55 the stars and stripes floated on the tropical breeze from every official flagstaff.

The ceremony of today was a most impressive one. To hear the strains of "Hawaii Ponoi" for the last time as a national anthem; to hear the bugle blow taps as the Hawaiian ensign sank from its position, and to notice the emotion of many who had been born under it and had lived their lives under it, was solemn. But then came the bugle call for the raising of Old Glory, and the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner" broke forth as that banner was unfurled to the breeze. Then the cheers broke forth, and eyes that had been dim for a few minutes became bright and lightened up when the stars and stripes blew out.

The ceremonies opened with prayer by Rev. G. L. Peterson, pastor of the First Methodist church of this city. United States Minister Sewall then rose, and, addressing President Dole, who had risen, presented him with a certified copy of the joint resolution of congress annexing the Hawaiian islands to the United States.

President Dole answered, acknowledging the making of a treaty of political union, and formally yielded to Minister Sewall, as the representative of the government of the United States, the sovereignty and public property of the Hawaiian Islands.

Mr. Sewall replied: "In the name of the United States I accept the transfer of the sovereignty and property of the Hawaiian Islands. The admiral commanding the United States force in Hawaii waters will proceed to perform the duty entrusted to him."

The Hawaiian band played "Hawaii Ponoi" the national anthem. Colonel Fisher gave the order to the national guard battery, stationed on the executive grounds in command of Lieutenant Ludwig, to fire the national salute of 21 guns which was also repeated by the Philadelphia. As the echo of the last gun reverberated in the hills, a bugle sounded and the national ensign of Hawaii came slowly down until it reached the ground, never to go up again.

There was a pause and then Admiral Sampson and his staff entered the grounds.

What mother does not wish to be proud of her child? What mother does not want to be healthy, happy, laughing and able to withstand the ordinary illnesses of childhood?

Any woman may insure the health of her children who will take proper care of her health in a womanly way. The health of her children depends almost entirely upon her general health, and particularly upon the health and strength of the delicate and important organs that bear the burdens of maternity. A woman has no right to disregard her own health, comfort, ease and happiness, she certainly has less right to condemn her children to a life of suffering or an early death. That is what she does if she neglects the health of her special womanly organism. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an unfailing remedy for all disorders of this description. It strengthens and invigorates the sensitive organs concerned, and is the best preparation for the trials and dangers of maternity. It insures the well being of the mother and the health of the child. It is a guarantee of health of the child. It is a guarantee of health of the child. It is a guarantee of health of the child.

Barbra A. Mudd, of Indian Creek, Mo., writes: "I am very thankful for what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription did for me. I was all broken down from nervous prostration, but since taking your medicine I have had more relief than from all the doctors. Your Favorite Prescription did me a world of good."

Many women have told their experiences, and given their names, addresses and photographs in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This book is free. A copy will be sent to any address upon receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. The "Favorite Prescription" is for sale by all dealers and no honest man will urge a substitute.

SPANISH COMMISSIONERS.

Spain Furnishes a List For Cuba and Porto Rico.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The state department has received from the French embassy a notification from the Spanish government of the military commissioners for Cuba and Porto Rico. Under the peace protocol the government was to name its military commissioners within 10 days, their meeting to be held within 30 days. The 10 days was up yesterday and accordingly Spain gave the official notice of the appointments. They are as follows:

For Cuba—Major General Gonzales Parrado, Rear Admiral Pasto y Lango, Marquis Montoro.

For Porto Rico—Major General Ortega y Diaz, Commodore of First Rank Vallarino y Carrasco, Judge Advocate Sanchez del Aguila y Leon.

Considerable significance attaches to the naming of Marquis Montoro on the Cuban commission, as it indicates a purpose, on the part of Spain, to go into the future government of Cuba. He is the only commissioner, Spanish or American, taken from civil life. He is named, it is believed, in order to carry out Spain's desire to have an understanding as to the future government of the island, he being intimately familiar with the civil administration of Cuba. As secretary of the Cuban treasury he is also very familiar with questions affecting the Cuban debt.

DEWEY'S SWORD.

Design Selected For the Gift of the Nation.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The design for the memorial sword the government is to present to Rear Admiral Dewey, according to act of congress, has been finally determined upon by the committee having the subject in charge. A great many designs have been submitted, some of them showing much artistic beauty. The one selected was submitted by Tiffany & Co., of New York. The design is less ornate than some of the others. Its marked characteristic is in its simple and solid elegance. The hilt of the sword, as originally submitted, showed an eagle's head, but this was changed to a plain and solid, but highly traced gold handle. The blade is damascened, being subjected to that process by which famous Damascus blades were made. One side of the blade bears the inscription:

The Gift of the Nation to REAR ADMIRAL GEORGE DEWEY, U. S. N., In Memory of the Victory at Manila Bay, May 1.

The scabbard is of dark blue damascened metal, with tracery of gold. One of the most marked features of the original design was at the end of the scabbard, where in miniature a crown, presumably the Spanish crown, was being run through by this Dewey sword. The committee rejected this suggestive feature and instead of the pierced crown there is substituted two dolphins.

EVERYTHING IN SIGHT.

Cubans Steal the Americans' Tents, Arms, Stores and Personal Effects.

Santiago, Aug. 23.—On the breaking of General Wheeler's camp on the Caney road last Friday the tents and general equipment of the division headquarters were left in charge of the quartermaster's department. During the night the Cubans stealthily confiscated all the tents, stores, arms and personal effects of the soldiers. There is no clue to the robbers. On Saturday General Lawton ordered the ammunition and arms to be brought into town, but it was too late. Everything was gone.

General Kent's brigade, stationed three miles from Santiago also lost their tents and the soldiers marched into town barefooted, their shoes and everything portable having been stolen. The Cubans equipped themselves with the arms, tents and provisions of the Americans. They are continually stalking about the camps and constant vigilance is necessary.

There are 488 patients in the hospital at Siboney and the authorities urge their immediate removal. Climatic deceptions that delay in removing the patients will menace their lives. The death rate is high.

CHICKAMAUGA.

One Hundred and Fifty-Eighth Indiana Expected to Leave Camp Tomorrow.

Chickamauga, Ga., Aug. 23.—Late yesterday afternoon Major Breckinridge received instructions from the war department to send the Third corps to Huntsville, Ala., as speedily as practicable. This corps will report to General Copping and will go into camp at Huntsville. Only two regiments left the camp yesterday.

The Second brigade of the Third division, consisting of the Twenty-first Kansas, Eighth Massachusetts and Twelfth New York, commanded by Brigadier General Wadsworth, and the Second division, same corps, consisting of the One Hundred and Fifty-eighth Indiana, Sixth Ohio and First West Virginia, Brigadier General McKee's brigade, will be the next to leave, the former going to Lexington and the latter to Knoxville.

SAMPSON AND M'KINLEY.

The Admiral and President Have a Conference at the White House.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Admiral Sampson called on President McKinley yesterday and spent 35 minutes with him in discussion of the Cuban commission's plans and other matters. He reached here on the train from New York late yesterday afternoon and drove immediately to the navy department. There he spent some minutes exchanging courtesies with the navy officials, after which Acting Secretary of the Navy Allen drove with him to the white house, the two joining the president.

It is understood that their conference was in regard to the sinking of the Spanish fleet at Santiago and as to the instructions to be given the commission on evacuation of Cuba by Spain. Admiral Sampson refused to say anything for publication after the conference.

Will Be the Guests of France.

Washington, Aug. 23.—In view of the early meeting at Paris of the Spanish-American peace commissioners, arrangements are already under way for the entertainment of this distinguished body. It is understood that the commission will be the guests of the French government. The meetings of the commission will be held at the French foreign office, in the sumptuous and historic Salon des Ambassadeurs. It was there that the famous congress of Paris met in 1856. The salon is probably the most elegant official apartment in all Europe, being hung with Gobelin tapestries and decorated with lavish frescoes and works of art.

Miles Coming Home.

Ponce, Porto Rico, Aug. 23.—General Miles left last night on board the steamer Arkansas for New Orleans.

What mother does not wish to be proud of her child? What mother does not want them to be healthy, happy, laughing, loving and able to withstand the ordinary illnesses of childhood?

Any woman may insure the health of her children who will take proper care of her health in a womanly way. The health of her children depend almost entirely upon her general health, and particularly upon the health and strength of the delicate and important organs that bear the burdens of maternity. A woman has no right to disregard her own health, comfort, ease and happiness, she certainly has less right to condemn her children to a life of suffering or an early death. That is what she does if she neglects the health of her special womanly organism. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an unfailing remedy for all disorders of this description. It strengthens and invigorates the sensitive organs concerned, and is the best preparation for the trials and dangers of motherhood. It insures the well being of the mother and the sure health of the child. Its use is a guarantee of a bountiful supply of nourishment for the little new-comer. Many women who once bore children only to specify lose them, are now mothers of healthy, robust children as the result of the use of this medicine.

Barbra A. Mudd, of Indian Creek, Mo., writes: "I am very thankful for what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription did for me. I was all broken down from nervous prostration, but since taking your medicine I have had more relief than from all the doctors. Your 'Favorite Prescription' did me a world of good."

Many women have told their experiences, and given their names, addresses and photographs in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This book is free. A copy will be sent to any address upon receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. The "Favorite Prescription" is for sale by all dealers and no honest man will urge a substitute.

THE ADMIRAL AND PRESIDENT HAVE A CONFERENCE AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Admiral Sampson called on President McKinley yesterday and spent 35 minutes with him in discussion of the Cuban commission's plans and other matters. He reached here on the train from New York late yesterday afternoon and drove immediately to the navy department.

There he spent some minutes exchanging courtesies with the navy officials, after which Acting Secretary of the Navy Allen drove with him to the white house, the two joining the president.

It is understood that their conference was in regard to the sinking of the Spanish fleet at Santiago and as to the instructions to be given the commission on evacuation of Cuba by Spain.

Admiral Sampson refused to say anything for publication after the conference.

Will Be the Guests of France.

Washington, Aug. 23.—In view of the early meeting at Paris of the Spanish-American peace commissioners, arrangements are already under way for the entertainment of this distinguished body. It is understood that the commission will be the guests of the French government. The meetings of the commission will be held at the French foreign office, in the sumptuous and historic Salon des Ambassadeurs. It was there that the famous congress of 1856 met in 1856.

The salon is probably the most elegant official apartment in all Europe, being hung with Gobelin tapestries and decorated with lavish frescoes and works of art.

Miles Coming Home.

Ponce, Porto Rico, Aug. 23.—General Miles left last night on board the steamer Arkansas for New Orleans.

Making the Selections Himself.

Washington Aug. 23.—State department officials give no intimation as to when the members of the peace commission will be announced, or as to its personnel, but the general understanding being that the president himself is giving his personal attention to the selections. The same is true as to the successor to Ambassador Hay at London.

Died of His Wounds.

Louisville, Aug. 23.—James Robert Clark, who was shot by his brother-in-law, Robert Martin, on the night of Aug. 13, is dead from his wounds. The shooting was the outcome of a family quarrel.

Has Enough Transports.

Washington, Aug. 23.—General Shafter has telegraphed the war department that he has enough transports at Santiago to bring the remainder of the United States troops home.

Miller nodded slightly to Lieutenant Winterhalter, who gave the order, "colors, roll off." The flagstaff's band struck up the well known strains of "The Star Spangled Banner," and as the stars and stripes slowly ascended there was breathless suspense. But as it reached the top cheers broke forth from the crowds below and salutes of 21 guns were fired by the Hawaiian battery and the Philadelphia.

A few minutes after the hoisting of the official flag others were raised from the two side towers and the military headquarters.

Minister Sewall then read a proclamation, stating that President McKinley directs that the civil, judicial and military powers of the government shall continue to be exercised by the officers of the republic of Hawaii. All such officers will be required to take an oath of allegiance to the United States and renew their bonds to the United States government.

SPANISH COMMISSIONERS.

Spain Furnishes a List For Cuba and Porto Rico.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The state department has received from the French embassy a notification from the Spanish government of the military commissioners for Cuba and Porto Rico. Under the peace protocol the government was to name its military commissioners within 10 days, their meeting to be held within 30 days. The 10 days was yesterday and accordingly Spain gave the official notice of the appointments. They are as follows:

For Cuba—Major General Gonzales Parrado, Rear Admiral Pasto y Lang, dero, Marquis Montoro.

For Porto Rico—Major General Ortega y Diaz, Commodore of First Rank Vallarino y Carrasco, Judge Advocate Sanchez del Aguila y Leon.

Considerable significance attaches to the naming of Marquis Montoro on the Cuban commission, as it indicates a purpose, on the part of Spain, to go into the future government of Cuba. He is the only commissioner, Spanish or American, taken from civil life. He is named, it is believed, in order to carry out Spain's desire to have an understanding as to the future government of the island, he being intimately familiar with the civil administration of Cuba. As secretary of the Cuban treasury he is also very familiar with questions affecting the Cuban debt.

DEWEY'S SWORD.

Design Selected For the Gift of the Nation.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The design for the memorial sword the government is to present to Rear Admiral Dewey, according to act of congress, has been finally determined upon by the committee having the subject in charge. A great many designs have been submitted, some of them showing much artistic beauty. The one selected was submitted by Tiffany & Co., of New York. The design is less ornate than some of the others. Its marked characteristic is in its simple and solid elegance. The hilt of the sword, as originally submitted, showed an eagle's head, but this was changed to a plain and solid, but highly traced gold handle. The blade is damascened, being subjected to that process by which the famous Damascus blades were made. One side of the blade bears the inscription:

THE GIFT OF THE NATION TO REAR ADMIRAL GEORGE DEWEY, U. S. N., IN MEMORY OF THE VICTORY AT MANILA BAY, MAY 1, 1898.

The scabbard is of dark blue damascened metal, with tracery of gold. One of the most marked features of the original design was at the end of the scabbard, where in miniature a crown, presumably the Spanish crown, was being run through by this Dewey sword. The committee rejected this suggestive feature and instead of the pierced crown there is substituted two dolphins.

EVERYTHING IN SIGHT.

Cubans Steal the Americans' Tents, Arms, Stores and Personal Effects.

Santiago, Aug. 22.—On the breaking of General Wheeler's camp on the Cañey road last Friday the tents and general equipment of the division headquarters were left in charge of the quartermaster's department. During the night the Cubans stealthily confiscated all the tents, stores, arms and personal effects of the soldiers. There is no clue to the robbers. On Saturday General Lawton ordered the ammunition and arms to be brought into town, but it was too late. Everything was gone.

General Kent's brigade, stationed three miles from Santiago also lost their tents and the soldiers marched into town barefooted, their shoes and everything portable having been stolen. The Cubans equipped themselves with the arms, tents and provisions of the Americans. They are continually stalking about the camps and constant vigilance is necessary.

There are 488 patients in the hospital at Siboney and the authorities are large. The climate is as bad as the fever. The doctors say that delay in removing the patients will menace their lives. The death rate is high.

CHICKAMAUGA.

One Hundred and Fifty-Eighth Indiana Expects to Leave Camp Thomas Soon.

Chickamauga, Ga., Aug. 23.—Late yesterday afternoon Major Breckinridge received instructions from the war department to send the Third corps to Huntsville, Ala., as speedily as practicable. This corps will report to General Coppinger and will go into camp at Huntsville. Only two regiments left the camp yesterday.

The Second brigade of the Third division, consisting of the Twenty-first Kansas, Eighth Massachusetts and Twelfth New York, commanded by Brigadier General Waters, and the Second division, same corps, consisting of the One Hundred and Fifty-eighth Indiana, Sixth Ohio and First West Virginia, Brigadier General McKee's brigade, will be the next to leave, the former going to Lexington and the latter to Knoxville.

HAVANA SITUATION

Necessaries of Life Are Scarce and Prices Continue High.

WORK OF FREE KITCHENS

Thirty Thousand Persons Fed Daily and Yet Great Numbers Are Without Food. Women and Children Lie in the Streets Looking More Like Corpses Than Living Beings.

Havana, via Key West, Aug. 23.—A Spanish correspondent says: "The civil governor of Havana has received a telegram from the mayor of Nueva Paz, stating that The Diarco de La Marina had published a letter from a correspondent in which it was asserted that the insurgents had committed outrages of various kinds. This the mayor declared to be absolutely false. La Lucha will publish a denial of the report. The Diarco de La Marina sent a special correspondent to investigate the matter, and he confirms the story of the outrages, and reports many crimes committed by the insurgents."

"The situation at Havana remains the same as during the blockade. Provisions and other necessities of life are very scarce and prices continue high. The colonial government imposed the highest customs duties which continue in force, making prices high and rendering the situation of the poor very painful. The free kitchens which have been established in Havana daily furnish about 30,000 persons with food, but, owing to the great number of poor in the city who are without food of any sort, the amount of supplies handled by these kitchens is quite insufficient to relieve the distress to any extent. Women and children lie about the streets, pale and emaciated, looking more like corpses than living beings."

"Considerable excitement and discontent exists among the insurgent sympathizers, who condemn strongly all the acts of the colonial government, and many of these sympathizers are leaving the cities and towns to join the insurgents. During the past few days hundreds of uniforms have been sent to the insurgents from Havana."

"The insurgent general, Marco Moncal, is at Raganla, near Lagan, about two leagues distant from Havana, where he relieved General Alejandro Rodriguez. It is reported that General Mayia Rodriguez is camped between Guines and San Nicolas with 4,000 men. Leader Perico Delgado is said to be with him. "An immense majority of the Spanish conservatives in the island and the natives favor the annexation of the island to the United States, which they consider the only means of securing a stable government in Cuba. In no country has public opinion ever apparently undergone such a radical and rapid change as in Cuba. Even the most ardent Spanish residents now favor annexation."

"The rumors which have been put in circulation of late to the effect that the Spanish army would not obey the government's decision and evacuate Cuba are entirely baseless."

"It is reported that the insurgent forces from the provinces of Pinar del Rio and Matanzas are moving in Havana province, purporting to make a triumphal entry into Havana city."

MAIL FACILITIES.

Better Service to Be Furnished Between Santiago and Ponce.

Washington, Aug. 23.—An arrangement has been effected by which the postoffice department hopes to be able to give a better mail service between the United States and Santiago and Ponce. The department is compelled to rely on the war department for transportation of the mails to these points, and fair facilities were thus obtained until the quick transportation home of General Shafter's army was begun, when the mail service suffered. As a result of representations by the postoffice department, Secretary Alger has notified it that he will try to establish a line regularly between Santiago and one of the Atlantic ports, probably Charleston, and to have a vessel run between Santiago and Ponce.

APPROPRIATIONS

Moneys Provided by Congress For the Use of the Government.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The volume of appropriations, new officers, etc., required by law to be prepared at the end of each session of congress under the direction of the committees on appropriations of the senate and house of representatives, has just been completed for the second session of the Fifty-fifth congress by T. P. Cleaves and J. C. Courts, chief clerks respectively of the senate and house committees. A summary of the appropriations shows the grand total to be $892,231,615.

The details by bills are as follows: Agriculture, $3,509,392; army, $23,197,392; diplomatic, $1,752,208; District of Columbia, $6,436,880; fortifications, $9,377,494; Indian, $7,673,854; legislative, $21,635,346; military academy, $458,689; naval, $508,783; pension, $141,238,890; postoffice, $89,224,300.

Sundry civil, $48,490,212. Deficiencies, including various war appropriations for the fiscal year 1898, and continuing to Dec. 31st, next, $349,772,389. Miscellaneous appropriations, $9,560,311. Permanent appropriations, $117,876,220.

HORRIBLE STORY.

Chickamauga Park Hospitals Described by a Kentuckian.

Danville, Ky., Aug. 23.—Keene Ryan, a graduate of the Danville Theological seminary, last spring enlisted in the volunteer signal corps. When the corps was ordered to Newport News from Chickamauga Ryan was taken ill and sent to the hospital. He thus writes of his experience:

"The hospitals at Chickamauga Park are veritable pesthouses, where more men have been killed by neglect and cruel treatment than have died from Spanish bullets. Sick men have been crowded into these tents until they have almost suffocated. Patients dying of typhoid fever have been jammed in between men suffering with other and chronic diseases and the diseases become complicated on account of the tact. For 10 days after I was brought to this hospital I lay beside a man delirious in typhoid fever, and across the tent was another dying of the same disease. He was too weak to keep the flies away and they gathered about his eyes, nose and mouth until his face was black with them."

"It is useless for friends to send us delicacies to eat. We never get them. I have seen nurses take meals prepared for patients and go on the outside and eat them. My nurse is a man named Murphy. He is a great, strapping fellow, with a red face and the mug of a pugilist. The other night a surgeon got angry at him for neglecting some of the patients and yelled:

"'Man, don't you know anything about nursing?'"

"'Not a d—d thing,' was the reply."

"'What did you do before coming here?' thundered the surgeon."

"'Drove nules and stakes in a circus and mixed drinks in a barroom.'"

"'This man,' continues the letter, 'would go through our ward of dying men, carrying a double handful of quinine and bismuth pills, pitch a couple on each cot and yell: 'There's your medicine. Get up and take it.'"

"'One of the sad things noticeable about the place is the look of hopeless despair pictured on the face of almost every patient. It reminds me of the stories told of the poor devils in the leprosy communities.'"

ANNOUNCEMENT.

FOR CLERK.

JAMES W. LEWIS, of Vernon township, is a candidate as a republican for county clerk on the fusion ticket hereafter to be named.

The Knights of Pythias have just about taken possession of Indianapolis for the week. They are being given a royal welcome too.

The number of truant officers in Indiana the coming year will be fewer than last. This seems to be the conclusion of the truancy board after due consideration. One officer who will give his time to the work will probably bring better results than will three men who are otherwise occupied a part of the time.

A large number of the best citizens of Adams county, regardless of party politics have organized and put in the field a full county ticket. The county has been democratic in past years by more than 1500 majority. Of course the office holders generally, past and present, are opposed to such a movement.

Those who have done the most complaining about the management of the war have generally been the ones who have known the least about it. Secretary Alger's critics have been those who knew little about the magnitude of the work done by the war department. The same is true of criticism of other departments. The complaining ones have not been the most helpful Americans since the war began.

DEADLY SEA SNAKES.

VILE REPTILES THAT INFEST THE WATERS OF THE PHILIPPINES.

The Venom of These Serpents Is More Fatal Than That of the Cobra and a Mere Scratch From Their Fangs Will Produce Serious Results.

Not only do various reptiles and other queer creatures abound in the forests and swamps of the Philippines, but the surrounding water of these interesting islands team with veritable sea serpents. These strange creatures, which pass their entire existence in the water, possess deadly fangs. They are a great menace to the fishermen, who are constantly exposed to their attacks.

Technically speaking, science has named the group the Hydrophidae. They differ from the terrestrial snakes only in the possession of a flat, paddle-like tail. These reptiles inhabit the tropical seas of the old world and occasionally attain a length of 8 feet. Dr. Rudolph Weber, professor of drawing in Princeton university, observed large numbers of these creatures while on a steamer bound for Sumatra. Dr. Weber was in charge of a scientific expedition and naturally took special notice of them. He says that when the vessel was some 50 miles off the coast myriads of sea snakes could be seen swimming about as far as the eye could reach. They kept upon the surface, and several distinct species were recognized among them.

During calm weather these reptiles may be seen sunning themselves upon the surface of the sea, remaining motionless except for a slight undulation caused by the movement of the water. When alarmed, the agile reptiles dive like arrows, leaving a train of bubbles behind them. Some species are extremely brilliant in coloration, being bright yellow, banded with black, while others are tinted with delicate shades of green.

The food of sea snakes consists entirely of fishes. Frequently fishes armed with long sharp spines fall victims to their appetites. Among these are the apogonids and silurids, which are furnished with spines three and five inches long. But these do not embarrass the voracious reptile in the least. The victim is first killed by the snake's poison, after which it is swallowed head first. The spines, naturally pointing toward the tail of the victim, and being relaxed in death, are compressed against the body of the fish as deglutition proceeds. While in search of their prey, sea snakes sometimes venture a short distance up the mouth of large rivers.

Dr. Weber records an instance where he was fishing in one of the rivers on the east coast of Sumatra. He was using a dragnet and had cornered a number of medium sized fish. As the net was being brought in, two large sea snakes suddenly made their appearance inside. They showed no signs of uneasiness at capture, but were hurriedly gobbled down the cornered fishes. Nor did they escape operations until the last fish had disappeared, when the formidable creatures made their escape.

Being air breathers, the sea snakes lead a similar existence to the whale. Scientists have expressed much interest as to how long they can remain under water. Professor R. P. Witfield of the American Museum of Natural History, while dragging for corals, saw a large sea snake lying motionless among some coral growths, some eight feet below the surface. It showed no signs of fear and remained in the same position for half an hour. The venom of these reptiles is even more deadly than that of the cobra. The fangs are very short, and consequently do not penetrate so deep as the fangs of most serpents, but only a scratch from them is necessary to produce serious results. Owing to their great shyness accidents are very rare. When cornered, they snap upon a victim. As the eyes are adapted only for use in the water they strike blindly when brought into the air, although living for days when removed from their native element.

Many specimens landed up in fishermen's nets have been sent to zoological gardens. The London gardens even went so far as to build a special tank for their accommodation. But these captured specimens either die en route or a short time after being placed in captivity. Seeking a dark corner of their tank, they refuse all food and ultimately starve to death. Around the numerous volcanic islands of the Malay archipelago these reptiles are particularly numerous. Frequent eruptions occur among these islands, which are hardly more than the body of the volcano.

During the time of an eruption, the few people residing near by take to the water in their boats to escape the rain of ashes and mud.

It is generally a case of jumping from the frying pan into the fire, however. At such times the sea becomes uncomfortably warm from its close proximity to the burning mountain, and the sea snakes swim wildly about for escape. They endeavor to climb over the gunwales of the refugees' boats, while they twine their bodies in great masses about the forward chains.

When about to lay their eggs, these serpents approach the shore. The eggs are laid above high water mark and left to hatch by the heat of the sun. Many creatures prey upon the young reptiles. Among their enemies are sharks and other large fishes, while the adults, in spite of their death dealing fangs, fall victims to sea eagles and large gulls. After the great typhoons, which are common in the Philippines and their vicinity, many of these creatures may be found along the beach, where they have been cast up during the storm and killed by the violent pounding of the waves.—New York Times.

A NIGHT SONG.

Under the white moon, Nita,
The lilies lie awake,
And red as blood in flower and bud,
And all for your sweet sake,
The eager rose o'erleaps the close
And climbs the columned wall
To hide his face in the drifts of lace
That over your lattice fall.

The dead sweet scent of the woodbine
Some lamend breeze hath stirred,
And out of the dark, dew haunted park
Floats the pipe of a restless bird,
And far and faint the gurgle and plaint
Of the wood brook sounds alone
As I listen and pine for some answering
sign,
Some whisper of thine, my own!

Lie with the lilies, Nita,
Under thy lattice lars,
And the infinite night brims over
With the glory of moon and stars,
And the wooing woodbine's passionate spice
Out of the darkness blows
And faints and dies with the mingled sighs
Of perfumed lily and rose.

Yet rest thee, my beloved, since
No prayer of mine may win
The crystal walls of slumber
That shut thee softly in.
But, oh, that the sweetest angel
Who keepeth the pearly key
Of sleep would open some door of dreams
And lead thee, sweet, to me!
—Emma Alice Brown in New York Ledger.

BUFFALO BILL'S START.

Mere Accident Made the Well Known Scout a Showman.

An old Nebraskan was speaking of Buffalo Bill recently, and incidentally told how he came to engage in the show business.

"Cody was for years a government scout on the western plains," said the Nebraskan man, "and it was when he conducted the buffalo exterminating expedition for the entertainment of the Grand Duke Alexis in 1870—I think it was—that he got his name. Cody at that time distinguished himself by the number of buffaloes he killed, and thereby earned his cognomen, which was given him by the duke. While he was well known as a scout, he would probably have never been widely known as a showman except for an accident.

"It was in 1881 that the people of North Platte, Neb., near which town was Cody's ranch, decided to celebrate the Fourth of July, and at the suggestion of John Kieth, who is a wealthy ranchman at Sutherland and North Platte and formerly claim adjuster of the Union Pacific, they selected a wild west show. Cody was one of the men most prominently interested in the scheme, and to him was left the work of securing the cowboys and Indians to help out the show. In North Platte at the time was an old stagecoach owned by Jim Stephenson of Omaha, who was the proprietor of the Deadwood-Sidney and other western stage lines. At the suggestion of Cody the Indians were to attack the coach and be repulsed by the cowboys and soldiers.

"That Fourth was the hottest celebration of American independence ever seen in Nebraska. The Omaha papers had men to cover it, and it attracted a crowd from all parts of the west. The programme which Cody and Kieth arranged included riding wild horses, shooting, rope throwing and all the other amusements and business proceedings of a western man.

"It was a few days after the entertainment, if such it may be called, that Matt Kieth, no relation of John, but an old time western man, told Cody that it was a big thing and ought to be repeated every Fourth of July. Cody at once said that it was something new in American entertainments, and he believed that by taking the aggregation east he could make money. The matter was discussed in North Platte, and finally Cody said that he would advance the money and start out. He did so, and his success is well known.

"When he first started, he had but a small show, but he has added to it. He goes with him Major Burke, Sherman Canfield, Bill McOmne, and just, but by no means least, Nate Salisbury. There was a quartet that cannot be beat, and with Cody boomed the business. Bill has made and spent a dozen fortunes and is today making money like a cranberry merchant."—New York Press.

Regarding Her Nerves.

A little case and maiden of 17 summers, whose clever sayings are the delight of her friends, recently died with an aunt. At the beginning of the repast she gravely said to her relative:

"I'll take just one cup of tea, Aunt Liza. I have to be so careful about my nerves. If I don't take care, I'll have nerves like a cat."

She got her tea, and it is scarcely necessary to add that when she had finished it she forgot all about her poor nerves and clamored for more.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Time's Changes.

In 1830 Goethe wrote to a friend that it seemed almost incredible that now that the Gotthard wagon road had been opened it was possible to go from Frankfurt to Milan in a single week. It is now done in a day.

It is not true, one now learns, that the Prince of Wales is the leader of fashion. The hair apparent, in fact, is not allowed to be aggressive enough to be a leader. One of the proofs that he does not lead fashion is that he wears a silk hat with a sack coat. It also proves that he does not follow the fashion. The real swells who do set the male fashions once resolved to make an innovation during Ascot week. Sporting men were dressing in light clothes and white hats, whereupon all the men in the swim appeared in black hats, black frock coats and dark trousers. For some reason the prince had not been notified of this change, and was caught in the paddock in a snuff colored suit.—London Tit-Bits.

THE BEAUTY.

Hail! Now she speaks,
The roses on their ruddy hearts to list.
The breezes cease to coax the lily bells
To sound their voiceless chime.
The nightingale is mute.

And when she smiles
'Tis like the break of day
O'er Persia's valleys faint with odors sweet
Or like entrancing melody
Conjured by master hand from strings
Aglow with heavenly fire.

And when she laughs—
Ah, then, the rippling cascade of her mirth
Awakens sleeping joy, deep toned and full
Of love as bells enriched with gold
On Moscow's towers swing!
—Ernest Jarrold in Yellow Book.

THE GREAT DESERT.

Power of the Winds on That Barren Waste of Sands.

With a feeling that my words will carry little weight with those who think otherwise, I venture to suggest that the Sahara is not exactly what it is commonly assumed to be, and yet in many ways it is not very different. Its first sands, when approached from the side of El-Kantara, are giant rocks, burned brown and red under the glow of the southern sun, standing out in wild pinnacles from the gently undulating surface. This is not the desert that is ordinarily pictured by the mind—that flat, endless expanse which fades off unbroken to the limits of vision—but it is the desert, nevertheless, just as much as the mountain snows of the far north are a part of the great arctic "sea of ice." Beyond, however, is the great plain itself, its swelling undulations hardly relieving to the eye the appearance of absolute flatness which the picture offers.

The truth is, the Sahara presents itself in a double aspect, that of the flat and sandy plain and that of the rocky ridge or mountain, the Hamada. It is the Hamada that is more particularly dreaded by the caravans, for among their wind swept crags there are few cases, and only the blowing sands and a relentless sun are the companions of the footsore pilgrim. In many parts of the flat desert traveling is moderately easy, for over long distances the surface has become coated into a hard, slimy crust—a solid basement rock, one may call it. Along our route of travel there were no sand dunes of any magnitude, the highest perhaps scarcely exceeding 15 or 20 feet, but I was informed by the distinguished French explorer, M. Fourcaud, who was then stopping at Biskra, that beyond Tuggurt they rise to the prodigious height of from 1,200 to 1,400 feet. This speaks even more eloquently for the power of the winds than do the high tossed sands of coral islands.—Popular Science Monthly.

One Veteran Without a Pension.

I sat on a hill with a sergeant who knew history and horses. He remembered Pansy, which had served 16 years in the troop and a first rate old horse then, but a d—d inspector with no soul came browsing around one day and condemned that old horse. Government got a measly $10—or something like that. This ran along for a time, when one day they were trooping up some lonely valley, and behold, there stood Pansy, as thin as a snake, tied by a wickieup. He greeted the troop with joyful neighs. The soldiers asked the captain to be allowed to shoot him, but of course he said no. I could not learn if he winked when he said it. The policeman wound over the hill, a carbine rang from his rear, and Pansy lay down in the dust without a kick. Death is better than Indian for a horse. The thing was not noticed at the time, but made a world of fuss afterward, though how it all came out the sergeant did not develop, nor was it necessary.—Frederic Remington in Harper's Magazine.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

FOR CLERK.

JAMES W. LEWIS, of Vernon township, is a candidate as a republican for county clerk on the fusion ticket hereafter to be named.

The Knights of Pythias have just about taken possession of Indianapolis for the week. They are being given a royal welcome too.

The number of truant officers in Indiana the coming year will be fewer than last. This seems to be the conclusion of the truancy board after due consideration. One officer who will give his time to the work will probably bring better results than will three men who are otherwise occupied a part of the time.

A large number of the best citizens of Adams county, regardless of party politics have organized and put in the field a full county ticket. The county has been democratic in past years by more than 1500 majority. Of course the office holders generally, past and present, are opposed to such a movement.

Those who have done the most complaining about the management of the war have generally been the ones who have known the least about it. Secretary Alger's critics have been those who knew little about the magnitude of the work done by the war department. The same is true of criticism of other departments. The complaining ones have not been the most helpful Americans since the war began.

DEADLY SEA SNAKES.

VILE REPTILES THAT INFEST THE WATERS OF THE PHILIPPINES.

The Venom of These Serpents is More Fatal Than That of the Cobra and a Mere Scratch From Their Fangs Will Produce Serious Results.

Not only do various reptiles and other queer creatures abound in the forests and swamps of the Philippines, but the surrounding water of these interesting islands team with veritable sea serpents. These strange creatures, which pass their entire existence in the water, possess deadly fangs. They are a great menace to the fishermen, who are constantly exposed to their attacks.

Technically speaking, science has named the group the Hydrophidie. They differ from the terrestrial snakes only in the possession of a flat, paddle-like tail. These reptiles inhabit the tropical seas of the old world and occasionally attain a length of 8 feet. Dr. Rudolph Weber, professor of drawing in Princeton university, observed large numbers of these creatures while on a steamer bound for Sumatra. Dr. Weber was in charge of a scientific expedition and naturally took special notice of them. He says that when the vessel was some 50 miles off the coast myriads of sea snakes could be seen swimming about as far as the eye could reach. They kept upon the surface, and several distinct species were recognized among them.

During calm weather these reptiles may be seen sunning themselves upon the surface of the sea, remaining motionless except for a slight undulation caused by the movement of the water. When alarmed, the agile reptiles dive like arrows, leaving a train of bubbles behind them. Some species are extremely brilliant in coloration, being bright yellow, banded with black, while others are tinted with delicate shades of green.

The food of sea snakes consists entirely of fishes. Frequently fishes armed with long sharp spines fall victims to their appetites. Among these are the apogon and silurids, which are furnished with spines three and five inches long. But these do not embarrass the voracious reptile in the least. The victim is first killed by the snake's poison, after which it is swallowed head first. The spines, naturally pointing toward the tail of the victim, and being relaxed in death, are compressed against the body of the fish as deglutition proceeds. While in search of their prey, sea snakes sometimes venture a short distance up the mouth of large rivers.

Dr. Weber records an instance where he was fishing in one of the rivers on the east coast of Sumatra. He was using a dragnet and had cornered a number of medium sized fish. As the net was being brought in, two large sea snakes suddenly made their appearance inside. They showed no signs of uneasiness at capture, but were hurriedly gobbling down the cornered fishes. Nor did they escape operations until the last fish had disappeared, when the formidable creatures made their escape.

Being air breathers, the sea snakes lead a similar existence to the whale. Scientists have expressed much interest as to how long they can remain under water. Professor R. P. Witfield of the American Museum of Natural History, while dragging for corals, saw a large sea snake lying motionless among some coral growths, some eight feet below the surface. It showed no signs of fear and remained in the same position for half an hour. The venom of these reptiles is even more deadly than that of the cobra. The fangs are very short, and consequently do not penetrate so deep as the fangs of most serpents, but only a scratch from them is necessary to produce serious results. Owing to their great shyness accidents are very rare. When cornered, they snap upon a victim. As the eyes are adapted only for use in the water they strike blindly when brought into the air, although living for days when removed from their native element.

Many specimens hauled up in fishermen's nets have been sent to zoological gardens. The London gardens even went so far as to build a special tank for their accommodation. But these captured specimens either die en route or a short time after being placed in captivity. Seeking a dark corner in their tank, they refuse all food and ultimately starve to death. Around the numerous volcanic islands of the Malay archipelago these reptiles are particularly numerous. Frequent eruptions pour among these islands, which are hardly more than the body of the volcano.

During the time of an eruption the few people residing near by take to the water in their boats to escape the rain of ashes and mud.

It is generally a case of jumping from the frying pan into the fire, however. At such times the sea becomes uncomfortably warm from its close proximity to the burning mountain, and the sea snakes swim wildly about for escape. They endeavor to climb over the gunwales of the refugees' boats, while they twine their bodies in great masses about the forward chains.

When about to lay their eggs, these serpents approach the shore. The eggs are laid above high water mark and left to hatch by the heat of the sun. Many creatures prey upon the young reptiles. Among their enemies are sharks and other large fishes, while the adults, in spite of their death dealing fangs, fall victims to sea eagles and large gulls. After the great typhoons, which are common in the Philippines and their vicinity, many of these creatures may be found along the beach, where they have been cast up during the storm and killed by the violent pounding of the waves.—New York Times.

A NIGHT SONG.

Under the white moon, Nita,
The lilies lie awake,
And red as blood in flower and bud,
And all for your sweet sake,
The eager rose overleaps the close
And climbs the columned wall
To hide his face in the drifts of lace
That cover your latticed fall.

The dead sweet scent of the woodbine
Some lamour breeze hath stirred,
And out of the dusk, dew haunted park
Floats the pipe of a restless bird,
And far and faint the gurgle and plaint
Of the wood brook sounds alone
As I listen and pine for some answering
Sign.

Some whisper of thine, my own!
I lie with the lilies, Nita,
Under thy latticed lars,
And the infinite night brims over
With the glory of moon and stars,
And the wooing woodbine's passionate spice
Out of the darkness blows
And faints and dies with the mingled sighs
Of perfumed lily and rose.

Yet rest thee, my beloved, since
No prayer of mine may win
The crystal walls of slumber
That shut thee softly in.
But, oh, that the mystic angel
Who keepeth the pearly key
Of sleep would open some door of dreams
And lead thee, sweet, to me!
—Emma Alice Brown in New York Ledger.

BUFFALO BILL'S START.

Here Accident Made the Well Known Scout a Showman.

An old Nebraska man was speaking of Buffalo Bill recently, and incidentally told how he came to engage in the show business.

"Cody was for years a government scout on the western plains," said the Nebraska man, "and it was when he conducted the buffalo exterminating expedition for the entertainment of the Grand Duke Alexis in 1870—I think it was—that he got his name. Cody at that time distinguished himself by the number of buffaloes he killed, and thereby earned his cognomen, which was given him by the duke. While he was well known as a scout, he would probably have never been widely known as a showman except for an accident."

"It was in 1881 that the people of North Platte, Neb., near which town was Cody's ranch, decided to celebrate the Fourth of July, and at the suggestion of John Kieth, who is a wealthy ranchman at Sutherland and North Platte and formerly claim adjuster of the Union Pacific, they selected a wild west show. Cody was one of the men most prominently interested in the scheme, and to him was left the work of securing the cowboys and Indians to help out the show. In North Platte at the time was an old stagecoach owned by Jim Stephenson of Omaha, who was the proprietor of the Deadwood-Sidney and other western stage lines. At the suggestion of Cody the Indians were to attack the coach and be repulsed by the cowboys and soldiers."

"That Fourth was the hottest celebration of American independence ever seen in Nebraska. The Omaha papers had men to cover it, and it attracted a crowd from all parts of the west. The programme which Cody and Kieth arranged included riding wild horses, shooting, rope throwing and all the other amusements and business proceedings of a western man."

"It was a few days after the entertainment, if such it may be called, that Matt Kieth, no relation of John, but an old time western man, told Cody that it was a big thing and ought to be repeated every Fourth of July. Cody at once said that it was something new in American entertainments, and he believed that by taking the aggregation east he could make money. The matter was discussed in North Platte, and finally Cody said that he would advance the money and start out. He did so, and his success is well known."

"When he first started, he had but a small show, but he has added to it. He got with him Major Burke, Sherman Canfield, Bill McCone, and last, but by no means least, Nate Salisbury. There was a quartet that cannot be beat, and with Cody boomed the business. Bill has made and spent a dozen fortunes and is today making money like a cranberry merchant."—New York Press.

Regarding Her Nerves.

A little cast and maiden of 15 summers, whose clever sayings are the delight of her friends, recently died with an aunt. At the beginning of the repast she gravely said to her relative:

"I'll take just one cup of tea, Aunt Liza. I have to be so careful about my nerves. If I don't take care, I'll have nerves like a cat."

She got her tea, and it is scarcely necessary to add that when she had finished it she forgot all about her poor nerves and clamored for more.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Time's Changes.

In 1830 Goethe wrote to a friend that it seemed almost incredible that now that the Gotthard wagon road had been opened it was possible to go from Frankfurt to Milan in a single week. It is now done in a day.

It is not true, one now learns, that the Prince of Wales is the leader of fashion. The heir apparent, in fact, is not allowed to be aggressive enough to be a leader. One of the proofs that he does not lead fashion is that he wears a silk hat with a sack coat. It also proves that he does not follow the fashion. The real swells who do set the male fashions are resolved to make an innovation during Ascot week. Sporting men were dressing in light clothes and white hats, whereupon all the men in the swim appeared in black hats, black frock coats and dark trousers. For some reason the prince had not been notified of this change, and was caught in the paddock in a snuff colored suit.—London Tit-Bits.

THE BEAUTY.

Hail! Now she speaks.
The roses ope their ruddy hearts to list.
The breezes cease to coax the lily bells
To sound their voiceless chime.
The nightingale is mute.

And when she smiles
The like the break of day
O'er Persian valleys faint with odors sweet
Or like entrancing melody
Conjured by master hand from strings
Aglow with heavenly fire.

And when she laughs—
Ah, then, the rippling music of her mirth
Awakens sleeping joy, deep toned and full
Of love as bells enriched with gold
On Moscow's towers swung!
—Ernest Jarrold in Yellow Book.

THE GREAT DESERT.

Power of the Winds on That Barren Waste of Sands.

With a feeling that my words will carry little weight with those who think otherwise, I venture to suggest that the Sahara is not exactly what it is commonly assumed to be, and yet in many ways it is not very different. Its first sands, when approached from the side of El-Kantara, are giant rocks, burned brown and red under the glow of the southern sun, standing out in wild pinnacles from the gently undulating surface. This is not the desert that is ordinarily pictured by the mind—that flat, endless expanse which fades off unremoved and unbroken to the limits of vision—but it is the desert, nevertheless, just as much as the mountain snows of the far north are a part of the great arctic "sea of ice." Beyond, however, is the great plain itself, its swelling undulations hardly relieving to the eye the appearance of absolute flatness which the picture offers.

The truth is, the Sahara presents itself in a double aspect, that of the flat and sandy plain, and that of the rocky ridge or mountain, the Hamada. It is the Hamada that is more particularly dreaded by the caravans, for among their wind swept crags there are few cases, and only the blowing sands and a relentless sun are the companions of the footsore pilgrim. In many parts of the flat desert traveling is moderately easy, for over long distances the surface has become coated into a hard, slimy crust—a solid basement rock, one may call it. Along our route of travel there were no sand dunes of any magnitude, the highest perhaps scarcely exceeding 15 or 20 feet, but I was informed by the distinguished French explorer, M. Fourcaud, who was then stopping at Biskra, that beyond Teguurt they rise to the prodigious height of from 1,200 to 1,400 feet. This speaks even more eloquently for the power of the winds than do the high tossed sands of coral islands.—Popular Science Monthly.

One Veteran Without a Pension.

I sat on a hill with a sergeant who knew history and horses. He remembered Pansy, which had served 16 years in the troop and a first rate old horse then, but a d—d inspector with no soul came browsing around one day and condemned that old horse. Government got a measly $10—or something like that. This ran along for a time, when one day they were trooping up some lonely valley, and behold, there stood Pansy, as thin as a snake, tied by a kickup. He greeted the troop with joyful neighs. The soldiers asked the captain to be allowed to shoot him, but of course he said no. I could not learn if he winked when he said it. The colonel wound over the hill, a carbine rang from his rear, and Pansy lay down in the dust without a kick. Death is better than Indian for a horse. The thing was not noticed at the time, but made a world of fuss afterward, though how it all came out the sergeant did not develop, nor was it necessary.—Frederic Remington in Harper's Magazine.

Jule Walters Coming.

To establish a new play in the hearts of theatre-goers and make it a household word, means a fortune to the author and it's producer. Jule Walters' good fortune as a manager-star from all reports still continues. His new play, "How Hopper Was Side Tracked," seems to be even a more substantial success than his former productions. In this play Mr. Walters is said to be more magnetic than ever, his comic expressions, his penetrating voice and his ludicrous make-up in the first act captures his audience instantaneously. "How Hoppers Was Side Tracked" bears no similarity to his now famous "Side Tracked" nor does "Happy" Christopher Hopper, his new character, remind one of "Horatio" Mr. Walters will be seen at the Opera House Aug 27.

Jule Walters Coming.

To establish a new play in the hearts of theatre-goers and make it a household word, means a fortune to the author and it's producer. Jule Walters' good fortune as a manager-star from all reports still continues. His new play, "How Hopper Was Side Tracked," seems to be even a more substantial success than his former productions. In this play Mr. Walters is said to be more magnetic than ever, his comic expressions, his penetrating voice and his ludicrous make-up in the first act captures his audience instantaneously. "How Hoppers Was Side Tracked" bears no similarity to his now famous "Side Tracked" nor does "Happy" Christopher Hopper, his new character, remind one of "Horatio" Mr. Walters will be seen at the Opera House Aug 27.

Chronic Dyspepsia Cured.

AFTER suffering for nearly thirty years from dyspepsia, Mrs. H. E. Dugdale, wife of a prominent business man of Warsaw, N. Y., writes: "For 28 years, I was a constant sufferer from dyspepsia and a weak stomach. The lightest food produced distress, causing severe pain and the formation of gas. No matter how careful of my diet I suffered agonizing pain after eating. I was treated by many physicians and tried numerous remedies without permanent help. Two years ago I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine and Liver Pills and Nerve. Within a week I commenced improving, and persisting in the treatment I was soon able to eat what I liked, with no evil effects. I keep them at hand and a single dose dispels any old symptoms."

HAWAII IS ANNEXED

The Islands Now Part of the United States of America.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES

Lowering of the Hawaiian Flag Caused Many Dim Eyes, Which Soon Brightened When Old Glory Was Swung to the Breeze—Government Notified of the Appointment of Spanish Commissioners.

San Francisco, Aug. 23.—The steamer Belgic last night brought the following: Honolulu, Aug. 12.—Precisely at 11:52 today the Hawaiian flags descended from the flagstaffs on all the government buildings and exactly at 11:55 the stars and stripes floated on the tropical breeze from every official flagstaff.

The ceremony of today was a most impressive one. To hear the strains of "Hawaii Pono!" for the last time as a national anthem; to hear the bugle blow taps as the Hawaiian ensign sank from its position, and to notice the emotion of many who had been born under it and had lived their lives under it, was solemn. But then came the bugle call for the raising of Old Glory, and the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner" broke forth as that banner was unfurled to the breeze. Then the cheers broke forth, and eyes that had been dim for a few minutes became bright and lightened up when the stars and stripes blew out.

The ceremonies opened with prayer by Rev. G. L. Peterson, pastor of the First Methodist church of this city. United States Minister Sewall then rose, and, addressing President Dole, who had risen, presented him with a certified copy of the joint resolution of congress annexing the Hawaiian islands to the United States.

President Dole answered, acknowledging the making of a treaty of political union, and formally yielded to Minister Sewall, as the representative of the government of the United States, the sovereignty and public property of the Hawaiian Islands.

Mr. Sewall replied: "Mr. President, in the name of the United States I accept the transfer of the sovereignty and property of the Hawaiian government. The admiral commanding the United States force in Hawaii waters will proceed to perform the duty entrusted to him."

The Hawaiian band played "Hawaii Pono!" the national anthem, Colonel Fisher gave the order to the national guard battery, stationed on the executive grounds in command of Lieutenant Ludwig, to fire the national salute of 21 guns which was also repeated by the Philadelphia. As the echo of the last gun reverberated in the hills, a bugle sounded and the national ensign of Hawaii came slowly down until it reached the ground, never to go up again.

There was a pause and then Admiral

What mother does not wish to be proud of her children? What mother does not want them to be healthy, happy, better-looking and able to withstand the ordinary illnesses of childhood?

Any woman may insure the health of her children who will take proper care of her health in a womanly way. The health of her children depends almost entirely upon her general health, and particularly upon the health and strength of the delicate and important organs that bear the burdens of maternity. A woman has no right to disregard her own health, comfort, ease and happiness, she certainly has less right to condemn her children to a life of suffering or an early death. That is what she does if she neglects the health of her special womanly organism. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an unfailing remedy for all disorders of this description. It strengthens and invigorates the sensitive organs concerned, and is the best preparation for the trials and dangers of maternity. It insures the well-being of the mother and the health of the child. It is a guarantee of a bountiful supply of nourishment for the little new-comer. Many women who once bore children only to speedily lose them, are now mothers of healthy, robust children as the result of the use of this medicine.

Barbara A. Mudd, of Indian Creek, Mo., writes: "I am very thankful for what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription did for me. I was all broken down from nervous prostration, but since taking your medicine I have had more relief than from all the doctors. Your Favorite Prescription 'did me a world of good.'"

Many women have told their experiences, and given their names, addresses and photographs in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This book is free. A copy will be sent to any address upon receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. The "Favorite Prescription" is for sale by all dealers and no honest man will urge a substitute.

Miller nodded slightly to Lieutenant Winterhalter, who gave the order, "colors, roll off." The flagstaff's band struck up the well known strains of "The Star Spangled Banner," and as the stars and stripes slowly ascended there was breathless suspense. But as it reached the top cheers broke forth from the crowds below and salutes of 21 guns were again fired by the Hawaiian battery and the Philadelphia.

A few minutes after the hoisting of the official flag others were raised from the two side towers and the military headquarters.

Minister Sewall then read a proclamation, stating that the civil, judicial and military powers of the government shall continue to be exercised by the officers of the republic of Hawaii. All such officers will be required to take an oath of allegiance to the United States and renew their bonds to the United States government.

SPANISH COMMISSIONERS.

Spain Furnishes a List For Cuba and Porto Rico.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The state department has received from the French embassy a notification from the Spanish government of the military commissioners for Cuba and Porto Rico. Under the peace protocol the government was to name its military commissioners within 10 days, their meeting to be held within 30 days. The 10 days was up yesterday and accordingly Spain gave the official notice of the appointments. They are as follows:

For Cuba—Major General Gonzales Parrado, Rear Admiral Pastor y Lanza, Marquis Montoro.

For Porto Rico—Major General Ortega y Diaz, Commodore of First Rank Vallarino y Carrasco, Judge Advocate Sanchez del Aguila y Leon.

Considerable significance attaches to the naming of Marquis Montoro on the Cuban commission, as it indicates a purpose, on the part of Spain, to go into the future government of Cuba. He is the only commissioner, Spanish or American, taken from civil life. He is named, it is believed, in order to carry out Spain's desire to have an understanding as to the future government of the island, he being intimately familiar with the civil administration of Cuba. As secretary of the Cuban treasury he is also very familiar with questions affecting the Cuban debt.

DEWEY'S SWORD.

Design Selected For the Gift of the Nation.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The design for the memorial sword the government is to present to Rear Admiral Dewey, according to act of congress, has been finally determined upon by the committee having the subject in charge. A great many designs have been submitted, some of them showing much artistic beauty. The one selected was submitted by Tiffany & Co., of New York. The design is less ornate than some of the others. Its marked characteristic is in its simple and solid elegance. The hilt of the sword, as originally submitted, showed an eagle's head, but this was changed to a plain and solid, but highly traced gold handle. The blade is damascened, being subjected to that process by which the famous Damascus blades were made. One side of the blade bears the inscription:

The Gift of the Nation to REAR ADMIRAL GEORGE DEWEY, U. S. N., In Memory of the Victory at Manila Bay, May 1, 1898.

The scabbard is of dark blue damascened metal, with tracery of gold. One of the most marked features of the original design was at the end of the scabbard, where in miniature a crown, presumably the Spanish crown, was being run through by this Dewey sword. The committee rejected this suggestive feature and instead of the pierced crown there is substituted two dolphins.

EVERYTHING IN SIGHT.

Cubans Steal the Americans' Tents, Arms, Stores and Personal Effects.

Santiago, Aug. 23.—On the breaking of General Wheeler's camp on the Caney road last Friday the tents and general equipment of the division headquarters were left in charge of the quartermaster's department. During the night the Cubans stealthily confiscated all the tents, stores, arms and personal effects of the soldiers. There is no clue to the robbers. On Saturday General Lawton ordered the ammunition and arms to be brought into town, but it was too late. Everything was gone.

General Kent's brigade, stationed three miles from Santiago also lost their tents and the soldiers marched into town barefooted, their shoes and everything portable having been stolen. The Cubans equipped themselves with the arms, tents and provisions of the Americans. They are continually stalking about the camps and constant vigilance is necessary.

There are 488 patients in the hospital at Siboney and the authorities urge their immediate removal. Climatic debility is as bad as the fever. The doctors say that delay in removing the patients will menace their lives. The death rate is high.

CHICKAMAUGA.

One Hundred and Fifty-Eighth Indiana Expects to Leave Camp Thomas Soon.

Chickamauga, Ga., Aug. 23.—Late yesterday afternoon Major Breckinridge received instructions from the war department to send the Third corps to Huntsville, Ala., as speedily as practicable. This corps will report to General Coppinger and will go into camp at Huntsville. Only two regiments left the camp yesterday.

The Second brigade of the Third division, consisting of the Twenty-first Kansas, Eighth Massachusetts and Twelfth New York, commanded by Brigadier General Wadsworth, and the Second division, same corps, consisting of the One Hundred and Fifty-eighth Indiana, Sixth Ohio and First West Virginia, Brigadier General McKee's brigade, will be the next to leave, the former going to Lexington and the latter to Knoxville.

SAMPSON AND M'KINLEY.

The Admiral and President Have a Conference at the White House.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Admiral Sampson called on President McKinley yesterday and spent 35 minutes with him in discussion of the Cuban commission's plans and other matters. He reached here on the train from New York late yesterday afternoon and drove immediately to the navy department. There he spent some minutes exchanging courtesies with the navy officials, after which Acting Secretary of the Navy Allen drove with him to the white house, the two joining the president.

It is understood that their conference was in regard to the sinking of the Spanish fleet at Santiago and as to the instructions to be given the commission on evacuation of Cuba by Spain. Admiral Sampson refused to say anything for publication after the conference.

Will Be the Guests of France.

Washington, Aug. 23.—In view of the early meeting at Paris of the Spanish-American peace commissioners, arrangements are already under way for the entertainment of this distinguished body.

It is understood that the commission will be the guests of the French government. The meetings of the commission will be held at the French foreign office, in the sumptuous and historic Salon des Ambassadeurs. It was there that the famous congress of Paris met in 1856. The salon is probably the most elegant official apartment in all Europe, being hung with Gobelin tapestries and decorated with lavish frescoes and works of art.

Miles Coming Home.

Ponce, Porto Rico, Aug. 23.—General Miles left last night on board the steamer Arkansas for New Orleans.

Making the Selections Himself.

Washington, Aug. 23.—State department officials give no intimation as to when the members of the peace commission will be announced, or as to its personnel, the general understanding being that the president himself is giving his personal attention to the selections. The same is true as to the successor to Ambassador Hay at London.

HAVANA SITUATION

Necessaries of Life Are Scarce and Prices Continue High.

WORK OF FREE KITCHENS

Thirty Thousand Persons Fed Daily and Yet Great Numbers Are Without Food. Women and Children Lie in the Streets Looking More Like Corpses Than Living Beings.

Havana, via Key West, Aug. 23.—A Spanish correspondent says: "The civil governor of Havana has received a telegram from the mayor of Nueva Paz, stating that The Diarco de La Marina had published a letter from a correspondent in which it was asserted that the insurgents had committed outrages of various kinds. This the mayor declared to be absolutely false. La Lucha will publish a denial of the report. The Diarco de La Marina sent a special correspondent to investigate the matter, and he confirms the story of the outrages, and reports many crimes committed by the insurgents."

"The situation at Havana remains the same as during the blockade. Provisions and other necessities of life are very scarce and prices continue high. The colonial government imposed the highest customs duties which continue in force, making prices high and rendering the situation of the poor very painful. The free kitchens which have been established in Havana daily furnish about 30,000 persons with food; but, owing to the great number of poor in the city who are without food of any sort, the amount of supplies handled by these kitchens is quite insufficient to relieve the distress to any extent. Women and children lie about the streets, pale and emaciated, looking more like corpses than living beings."

"Considerable excitement and discontent exists among the insurgent sympathizers, who condemn strongly all the acts of the colonial government, and many of these sympathizers are leaving the cities and towns to join the insurgents. During the past few days hundreds of uniforms have been sent to the insurgents from Havana."

"The insurgent general, Marco Moncal, is at Raganla, near Lugan, about two leagues distant from Havana, where he relieved General Alejandro Rodriguez. It is reported that General Mayia Rodriguez is camped between Guines and San Nicolas with 4,000 men. Leader Perico Delgado is said to be with him."

"An immense majority of the Spanish conservatives in the island and the natives favor the annexation of the island to the United States, which they consider the only means of securing a stable government in Cuba. In no country has public opinion ever apparently undergone such a radical and rapid change as in Cuba. Even the most ardent Spanish residents now favor annexation."

"The rumors which have been put in circulation of late to the effect that the Spanish army would not obey the government's decision and evacuate Cuba are entirely baseless."

"It is reported that the insurgent forces from the provinces of Pinar del Rio and Matanzas are uniting in Havana province, purposing to make a triumphal entry into Havana city."

MAIL FACILITIES.

Better Service to Be Furnished Between Santiago and Ponce.

Washington, Aug. 23.—An arrangement has been effected by which the postoffice department hopes to be able to give a better mail service between the United States and Santiago and Ponce. The department is compelled to rely on the war department for transportation of the mails to these points, and fair facilities were thus obtained until the quick transportation home of General Shafter's army was begun, when the mail service suffered. As a result of representations by the postoffice department, Secretary Alger has notified it that he will try to establish a line regularly between Santiago and one of the Atlantic ports, probably Charleston, and to have a vessel run between Santiago and Ponce.

Forgery Charge Against Mrs. Governor Atkinson Dismissed.

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 23.—The indictment against Mrs. Myra Atkinson, wife of Governor Atkinson, for forgery, has been quashed and the case against her dismissed by Judge Blizard in chambers on the ground that the indictment failed to allege guilty intent, and further, that the dismissal of J. P. Owens, principal, would necessarily acquit Mrs. Atkinson, who was only charged as accessory. This is believed to be the end of the prosecution of Mrs. Atkinson.

HORRIBLE STORY.

Chickamauga Park Hospitals Described by a Kentuckian.

Danville, Ky., Aug. 23.—Keene Ryan, a graduate of the Danville Theological seminary, last spring enlisted in the volunteer signal corps. When the corps was ordered to Newport News from Chickamauga Ryan was taken ill and sent to the hospital. He thus writes of his experience:

"The hospitals at Chickamauga Park are veritable pesthouses, where more men have been killed by neglect and cruel treatment than have died from Spanish bullets. Sick men have been crowded into these tents until they have almost suffocated. Patients dying of typhoid fever have been jammed in between men suffering with other and chronic diseases and the diseases become complicated on account of the fact. For 10 days after I was brought to this hospital I lay beside a man delirious in typhoid fever, and across the tent was another dying of the same disease. He was too weak to keep the flies away and they gathered about his eyes, nose and mouth until his face was black with them."

"It is useless for friends to send us delicacies to eat. We never get them. I have seen nurses take meals prepared for patients and go on the outside and eat them. My nurse is a man named Murphy. He is a great, strapping fellow, with a red face and the mug of a pugilist. The other night a surgeon got angry at him for neglecting some of the patients and yelled:

"Man, don't you know anything about nursing?"

"Not a d—d thing," was the reply. "What did you do before coming here?" thundered the surgeon.

"Drove nules and stakes in a circus and mixed drinks in a barroom."

"This man," continues the letter, "would go through our ward of dying men, carrying a double handful of quinine and bismuth pills, pitch a couple on each cot and yell: 'There's your medicine. Get up and take it.'"

"One of the sad things noticeable about the place is the look of hopeless despair pictured on the face of almost every patient. It reminds me of the stories told of the poor devils in the leprosy communities."

ANNOUNCEMENT.

JAMES W. LEWIS, of Vernon township, is a candidate as a republican for county clerk on the fusion ticket hereafter to be named.

The Knights of Pythias have just about taken possession of Indianapolis for the week. They are being given a royal welcome too.

The number of truant officers in Indiana the coming year will be fewer than last. This seems to be the conclusion of the truancy board after due consideration. One officer who will give his time to the work will probably bring better results than will three men who are otherwise occupied a part of the time.

A LARGE number of the best citizens of Adams county, regardless of party politics have organized and put in the field a full county ticket. The county has been democratic in past years by more than 1500 majority. Of course the office holders generally, past and present, are opposed to such a movement.

Those who have done the most complaining about the management of the war have generally been the ones who have known the least about it. Secretary Alger's critics have been those who knew little about the magnitude of the work done by the war department. The same is true of criticism of other departments. The complaining ones have not been the most helpful Americans since the war began.

DEADLY SEA SNAKES.

VILE REPTILES THAT INFEST THE WATERS OF THE PHILIPPINES.

The Venom of These Serpents Is More Fatal Than That of the Cobra and a Mere Scratch From Their Fangs Will Produce Serious Results.

Not only do various reptiles and other queer creatures abound in the forests and swamps of the Philippines, but the surrounding water of these interesting islands team with veritable sea serpents. These strange creatures, which pass their entire existence in the water, possess deadly fangs. They are a great menace to the fishermen, who are constantly exposed to their attacks.

Technically speaking, science has named the group the Hydrophidæ. They differ from the terrestrial snakes only in the possession of a flat, paddle-like tail. These reptiles inhabit the tropical seas of the old world and occasionally attain a length of 8 feet. Dr. Rudolph Weber, professor of drawing in Princeton university, observed large numbers of these creatures while on a steamer bound for Sumatra. Dr. Weber was in charge of a scientific expedition and naturally took special notice of them. He says that when the vessel was some 50 miles off the coast myriads of sea snakes could be seen swimming about as far as the eye could reach. They kept upon the surface, and several distinct species were recognized among them.

During calm weather these reptiles may be seen sunning themselves upon the surface of the sea, remaining motionless except for a slight undulation caused by the movement of the water. When alarmed, the agile reptiles dive like arrows, leaving a train of bubbles behind them. Some species are extremely brilliant in coloration, being bright yellow, banded with black, while others are tinted with delicate shades of green.

The food of sea snakes consists entirely of fishes. Frequently fishes armed with long sharp spines fall victims to their appetites. Among these are the apogonids and silurids, which are furnished with spines three and five inches long. But these do not embarrass the voracious reptile in the least. The victim is first killed by the snake's poison, after which it is swallowed head first. The spines, naturally pointing toward the tail of the victim, and being relaxed in death, are compressed against the body of the fish as deglutition proceeds. While in search of their prey, sea snakes sometimes venture a short distance up the mouth of large rivers.

Dr. Weber records an instance where he was fishing in one of the rivers on the east coast of Sumatra. He was using a dragnet and had cornered a number of medium sized fish. As the net was being brought in, two large sea snakes suddenly made their appearance inside. They showed no signs of uneasiness at capture, but were hurriedly gobbling down the cornered fishes. Nor did they cease operations until the last fish had disappeared, when the formidable creatures made their escape.

Being air breathers, the sea snakes lead a similar existence to the whale. Scientists have expressed much interest as to how long they can remain under water. Professor R. P. Witfield of the American Museum of Natural History, while dragging for corals, saw a large sea snake lying motionless among some coral growths, some eight feet below the surface. It showed no signs of fear and remained in the same position for half an hour. The venom of these reptiles is even more deadly than that of the cobra. The fangs are very short, and consequently do not penetrate so deep as the fangs of most serpents, but only a scratch from them is necessary to produce serious results. Owing to their great shyness accidents are very rare. When cornered, they snap upon a victim. As the eyes are adapted only for use in the water they strike blindly when brought into the air, although living for days when removed from their native element.

Many specimens have been sent to zoological gardens. The London gardens even went so far as to build a special tank for their accommodation. But these captured specimens either die en route or a short time after being placed in captivity. Seeking a dark corner of their tank, they refuse all food and ultimately starve to death. Around the numerous volcanic islands of the Malay archipelago these reptiles are particularly numerous. Frequent eruptions occur among these islands, which are hardly more than the body of the volcano.

During the time of an eruption the few people residing near by take to the water in their boats to escape the rain of ashes and mud.

It is generally a case of jumping from the frying pan into the fire, however. At such times the sea becomes uncomfortably warm from its close proximity to the burning mountain, and the sea snakes swim wildly about for escape. They endeavor to climb over the gunwales of the refugees' boats, while they twine their bodies in great masses about the forward chains.

When about to lay their eggs, these serpents approach the shore. The eggs are laid above high water mark and left to hatch by the heat of the sun. Many creatures prey upon the young reptiles. Among their enemies are sharks and other large fishes, while the adults, in spite of their death dealing fangs, fall victims to sea eagles and large gulls. After the great typhoons, which are common in the Philippines and their vicinity, many of these creatures may be found along the beach, where they have been cast up during the storm and killed by the violent pounding of the waves.—New York Times.

A NIGHT SONG.

Under the white moon, Nita,
The lilies lie awake,
And red as blood in flower and bud,
And all for your sweet sake,
The eager rose o'erleaps the close
And clings the colored wall
To hide his face in the drifts of lace
That over your lattice fall.

The dead sweet scent of the woodbine
Some lavender breeze bath stirred,
And out of the dark, dew haunted park
Floats the pipe of a restless bird,
And far and faint the gurgle and plaint
Of the wood brook sounds alone
As I listen and pine for some answering
sign.

Some whisper of thine, my own!
I lie with the lilies, Nita,
Under thy lattice lars,
And the infinite night burns over
With the glory of moon and stars,
And the wooing woodbine's passionate spice
Out of the darkness blows
And faints and dies with the mingled sighs
Of perfumed lily and rose.

Yet rest thee, my beloved, since
No prayer of mine may win
The crystal walls of slumber
That shut thee softly in.
But, oh, that the mystic angel
Who keeps the pearly key
Of sleep would open some door of dreams
And lead thee, sweet, to me!
—Emma Alice Brown in New York Ledger.

BUFFALO BILL'S START.

Here Accident Made the Well Known Scout a Showman.

An old Nebraskan was speaking of Buffalo Bill recently, and incidentally he told how he came to engage in the show business.

"Cody was for years a government scout on the western plains," said the Nebraskan man, "and it was when he conducted the buffalo exterminating expedition for the entertainment of the Grand Duke Alexis in 1870—I think it was—that he got his name. Cody at that time distinguished himself by the number of buffaloes he killed, and thereby earned his cognomen, which was given him by the duke. While he was well known as a scout, he would probably have never been widely known as a showman except for an accident.

"It was in 1881 that the people of North Platte, Neb., near which town was Cody's ranch, decided to celebrate the Fourth of July, and at the suggestion of John Kieth, who is a wealthy ranchman at Sutherland and North Platte and formerly claim adjuster of the Union Pacific, they selected a wild west show. Cody was one of the men most prominently interested in the scheme, and to him was left the work of securing the cowboys and Indians to help out the show. In North Platte at the time was an old stagecoach owned by Jim Stephenson of Omaha, who was the proprietor of the Deadwood-Sidney and other western stage lines. At the suggestion of Cody the Indians were to attack the coach and be repulsed by the cowboys and soldiers.

"That Fourth was the hottest celebration of American independence ever seen in Nebraska. The Omaha papers had men to cover it, and it attracted a crowd from all parts of the west. The programme which Cody and Kieth arranged included riding wild horses, shooting, rope throwing and all the other amusements and business proceedings of a western man.

"It was a few days after the entertainment, if such it may be called, that Matt Kieth, no relation of John, but an old time western man, told Cody that it was a big thing and ought to be repeated every Fourth of July. Cody at once said that it was something new in American entertainments, and he believed that by taking the aggregation east he could make money. The matter was discussed in North Platte, and finally Cody said that he would advance the money and start out. He did so, and his success is well known.

"When he first started, he had but a small show, but he has added to it. He got with him Major Burke, Sherman Canfield, Bill McGraw, and last, but by no means least, Nate Salisbury. There was a quartet that cannot be beat, and with Cody boomed the business. Bill has made and spent a dozen fortunes and is today making money like a cranberry merchant."—New York Press.

Regarding Her Nerves.

A little east end maiden of 17 summers, whose clever sayings are the delight of her friends, recently died with an aunt. At the beginning of the repast she gravely said to her relative:

"I'll take just one cup of tea, Aunt Liza. I have to be so careful about my nerves. If I don't take care, I'll have nerves like a cat."

She got her tea, and it is scarcely necessary to add that when she had finished it she forgot all about her poor nerves and clamored for more.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Time's Changes.

In 1830 Goethe wrote to a friend that it seemed almost inconceivable that now that the Gotthard wagon road had been opened it was possible to go from Frankfurt to Milan in a single week. It is now done in a day.

It is not true, one now learns, that the Prince of Wales is the leader of fashion. The heir apparent, in fact, is not allowed to be aggressive enough to be a leader. One of the proofs that he does not lead fashion is that he wears a silk hat with a sack coat. It also proves that he does not follow the fashion. The real swells who do set the male fashions once resolved to make an innovation during Assot week. Sporting men were dressing in light clothes and white hats, whereupon all the men in the swim appeared in black hats, black frock coats and dark trousers. For some reason the prince had not been notified of this change, and was caught in the paddock in a snuff colored suit.—London Tit-Bits.

THE BEAUTY.

Hail! Now she speaks.
The roses ope their ruddy hearts to list.
The breezes cease to coax the lily bells
To sound their voiceless chime.
The nightingale is mute.

And when she smiles
'Tis like the break of day
O'er Persian valleys faint with odors sweet
Or like entrancing melody
Conjured by master hand from strings
Aglow with heavenly fire.

And when she laughs—
Ah, then, the rippling music of her mirth
Awakens sleeping joy, deep toned and full
Of love as bells enriched with gold
On Moscow's towers swung!
—Ernest Jarrold in Yellow Book.

THE GREAT DESERT.

Power of the Winds on That Barren Waste of Sands.

With a feeling that my words will carry little weight with those who think otherwise, I venture to suggest that the Sahara is not exactly what it is commonly assumed to be, and yet in many ways it is not very different. Its first sands, when approached from the side of El-Kantara, are giant rocks, burned brown and red under the glow of the southern sun, standing out in wild pinnacles from the gently undulating surface. This is not the desert that is ordinarily pictured by the mind—that flat, endless expanse which fades off unbroken to the limits of vision—but it is the desert, nevertheless, just as much as the mountain snows of the far north are a part of the great arctic "sea of ice." Beyond, however, is the great plain itself, its swelling undulations hardly relieving to the eye the appearance of absolute flatness which the picture offers.

The truth is, the Sahara presents itself in a double aspect, that of the flat and sandy plain and that of the rocky ridge or mountain, the Hammada. It is the Hammada that is more particularly dreaded by the caravans, for among their wind swept crags there are few cases, and only the blowing sands and a relentless sun are the companions of the footsore pilgrim. In many parts of the flat desert traveling is moderately easy, for over long distances the surface has become coated into a hard, slimy crust—a solid lacement rock, one may call it. Along our route of travel there were no sand dunes of any magnitude, the highest perhaps scarcely exceeding 15 or 20 feet, but I was informed by the distinguished French explorer, M. Fourcade, who was then stopping at Biskra, that beyond Taggart they rise to the prodigious height of from 1,800 to 1,400 feet. This speaks even more eloquently for the power of the winds than do the high tossed sands of coral islands.—Popular Science Monthly.

One Veteran Without a Pension.

I sat on a bill with a sergeant who knew history and horses. He remembered Pansy, which had served 16 years in the troop and a first rate old horse then, but a d—d inspector with no soul came browsing around one day and condemned that old horse. Government got a measly $10—or something like that. This ran along for a time, when one day they were trooping up some lonely valley, and, behold, there stood Pansy, as thin as a snake, tied by a wickiup. He greeted the troop with joyful neighs. The soldiers asked the captain to be allowed to shoot him, but of course he said no. I could not learn if he winked when he said it. The column wound over the hill, a carbine rang from its rear, and Pansy lay down in the dust without a kick. Death is better than Indian for a horse. The thing was not noticed at the time, but made a world of fuss afterward, though how it all came out the sergeant did not develop, nor was it necessary.—Frederic Remington in Harper's Magazine.

Julie Walters Coming.

To establish a new play in the hearts of theatre-goers and make it a household word, means a fortune to the author and it's producer. Julie Walters' good fortune as a manager-star from all reports still continues. His new play, "How Hopper Was Side Tracked," seems to be even a more substantial success than his former productions. In this play Mr. Walters is said to be more magnetic than ever, his comic expressions, his penetrating voice and his ludicrous make-up in the first act capture his audience instantaneously. "How Hoppers Was Side Tracked" bears no similarity to his now famous "Side Tracked" nor does "Happy" Christopher Hepper, his new character, remind one of "Horatio" Mr. Walters will be seen at the Opera House Aug 27.
